

Sumners Road Bridges

The Queensland Government's $80 million Sumners Road overpass project, crossing the Centenary Highway, is progressing with the first of two new bridges now complete. The original bridge has been demolished so that work on the second bridge can commence.

This project will see two new intersections constructed, a new two lane eastbound bridge, a new four lane bridge with provisions for pedestrians and a cycle track built as an underpass below the western intersection.
